Professional Learning:

Teachers participated in peer to peer observations

- Teachers chose 2 classrooms that they wanted to observe
- Gave each other feedback that included a strategy that the visiting teacher planned to take back to their own classroom; one question the visiting teacher had
- Feedback about visits indicated that teachers learned from each other; teachers valued seeing students in various settings; teachers want time to debrief their visits with each other; teachers look forward to doing it again and arranging visits with their colleagues (this time it was admin arranged)
